Kenya Airways Resumes flights to Eldoret, strengthening local market presence

20th, March 2024 – Kenya Airways will relaunch its flight services to and from Eldoret starting March 25th, 2024.

Service to Eldoret will resume five days a week, with flights operating on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

Eldoret, renowned for its vibrant economy, attracts both business and leisure travelers alike. Serving as the economic hub of Uasin Gishu, Eldoret is a crucial trading center for various agricultural sectors including grain, dairy, and horticulture.

Kenya Airways, CEO, Allan Kilavuka, emphasized the strategic importance of reinstating flights to Eldoret, citing the airline's dedication to bolstering regional connectivity and facilitating access to global markets.

"Our renewed focus on the domestic market reaffirms Kenya Airways' pivotal role in advancing Africa's economic prosperity. By connecting Eldoret to our extensive network, we aim to stimulate growth and foster lasting socio-economic development in the region," Kilavuka remarked.

The relaunch of flights to Eldoret marks a significant milestone in Kenya Airways' post-COVID-19 recovery journey. With a commitment to providing reliable and efficient air travel services, the airline continues to play a crucial role in supporting the nation's economic growth and promoting regional integration.

"As Kenya Airways prepares to resume operations to Eldoret, travelers can expect exceptional service, world-class amenities, and the utmost commitment to safety and comfort. The airline remains committed in its mission to connect people, cultures, and markets, contributing to the prosperity and well-being of communities across Africa and beyond," Kilavuka concluded.

Competitive airfares will be offered for flights to and from Eldoret, ensuring affordability and accessibility for travelers.
