Kenya Airways Introduces a New Service Between Ghana and Senegal

KQ becomes the only carrier to offer the Accra (Ghana) – Dakar (Senegal) connection

Nairobi, 23rd November 2022 - National carrier Kenya Airways (KQ) has announced the introduction of a new service between Accra and Dakar effective 11th December 2022. Kenya Airways will become the only carrier to offer this connection and is expected to tap into the travel demand from corporate travelers, traders as well as leisure travelers between Ghana and Senegal.

Kenya Airways will fly a B737-800 two times a week from Nairobi to Accra to Dakar and return to Nairobi via Accra. This new connection will offer customers within the Kenya Airways network more flight options and choices within West Africa and in and out of East Africa as well as provide seamless connections through Nairobi to Middle East, India, China, Europe and USA. The route connection will increase Dakar flight options from the current two weekly flights to four times weekly and Accra from daily flights to nine times a week with a night flight out of Nairobi to Accra.

Kenya Airways Chief Commercial and Customer Officer Julius Thairu said, "The new connection will offer our guests more travel and connectivity options within West Africa. Strategically, the bigger picture is to support the Single African Air Transport Market and the African Continental Free Trade Area which are key pillars for Africa's growth, by growing and deepening our network connections within the continent."
